

Message from President & CEO

The import fresh products industry is currently under the rapidly changing situation due to the further liberalization of domestic distribution services and the evolution of globalization. In such a situation, we have made efforts to fulfill our obligations as a fresh products provider in order to support the diversified and sophisticated food culture of Japan, by giving the first priority to the producers, our customers and consumers. We also understand that it is crucial to develop human resources in such businesses, and we will continue to foster outstanding human resources who play a major role in the magnificent fresh products distribution industry.

Our mission is to bring happiness to consumers through delivering safe, trusted and delicious fresh products. We will continue to carry out bold and prudent ideas that are half a step ahead of the times, and make every effort to fulfill our mission. Your further cooperation is greatly appreciated.

President & CEO, Takafumi Sekino
